MONTGOMERY WINS THE DERBY

FAVORITE BEATS A GOOD FIELD IN CRESCENT CITY RACE.

Jockey Schilling, Who Rode the Winner, Finishes With One Stirrup-Temaceo second and Gargantua Third-Mollie Montrose Makes a Track Record.

New Orleans, La., March 23. - Montgomery, Chinn and Forsythe's Pessara-Montgomery Cooper colt, won the Crescent City Derby to-day, with C. E. Durnell's Temaceo second and Mrs. M. Goldblatt's Gargantua close third. The fine weather helped to swell the big crowd and the management estimated the gathering at close to 12,000

The Derby was fifth on the programme. and a better race no one could have wished to see. Montgomery was the favorite, while Wankee Girl, winner of the City Park, and Sir Toddington ruled second choices. There was but a delay of two minutes at the post and when Starter Dade released his barrier the field, which numbered nine, was in motion.

Montgomery was first to pass the grand tand, with Sir Toddington a close second. while Tileing and Yankoe Girl were running in third and fourth positions. They raced around the first turn in this order until the feld straightened out for the run down the backstretch. Nicol then rushed Sir Tod-dington into the lead, and passing the half mile pole he had almost two lengths to the good. Tileing moved up at this point, while Proxier rushed Morales into third position. Montgomery was running on the rail in fourth position, and Yankee Girl fifth. At the three-quarter pole Montgomery began to close ground on the leaders and coming fast on the rail soon passed Sir Toddington, Tileing and Morales, the trio seeming to quit. Mountain made his move with Yankee Girl about this stage, but there was a general closing up in which Yankee Girl was bumped out of Montgomery was then clear of his field and Schilling sat down to ride the finish. Temaceo, winner of the Ascot Derby, loomed up as a contender at this stage, but Montgomery had too great a lead to be caught and won with a ength to spare. Temaceo and Gargantua fought it out head and head in the last hundred yards, the former getting the place by a dred yards, the former getting the place by a head.

Yankee Girl appeared to have a great chance below the sixteenth pole, but Mountain was on the rail and finished in very close quarters. The filly was going very strong at the end and with clear sailing would have been closer up. Sir Toddington and Tileing tired badly in the last furlong and finished back in the ruck. Jockey Schilling finished in front, riding with one stirrup. Schilling said he lost a leather turning out of the backstretch, but Montgomery was too good a colt to be beaten.

George it. Holle took down a pair of races with Mollie Montrose, the unbeaten daughter of Cosarion, and the sprint handicap with his speedy Russell filly Colloquy. Mollie Montrose was at to 7 favorite over an exceedingly cheap lot of two-year-olds, but took up her 119 pounds and won easing up. The time, 47 3-5, clipped a fifth of a second off the track record.

Colloquy had but Southern Cross to beat in her race, and that she accomplished without taking a long breath. The filly, as usual, raced into the lead at the start and always held the Snyder sprinter safe. The first end of the two mile split resulted in an easy victory for Gamester, who went to the post at 18 to 5. Garner sent Gamester to the front at the start and won all the way. After the race S. Evans bid the winner up $100 over his entered price, but did not have the money to make good his bid. The judges decided to suspend him from all privileges for six months and inflicted a fine at $200.

Amberjack was well ridden and won the second end with 9 to 1 about his chances. Layson, the favorite, finished second, and mae Lynch a distant third. Donna Elvira proved easily best of a fair lot of platers in the opening event, while Agra, one of the outsiders, took the closing race from Bye Bye. CREW WORK AT COLUMBIA.

New Shell Launched and Rapid Progress Made-Roy Out of the Boat.

Progress of the Columbia crews has been rapid the last week, although the work of men has been somewhat hampered by the fact that the ice is not yet entirely cleared out of the river. Seven eights have been boated, including the freshmen and varsity boats. Crew men were surprised yesterday by the announcement that E. C. Roy, who rowed at No. 3 in last year's boat had decided to give up rowing this year. Roy's parents object to his training for an intercollegiate contest.

The new shell which was ordered some time ago arrived and was launched yester-day. It is about two feet shorter than the old boat and is somewhat lighter. Ward was ordered earlier in the year from Ahling & Co. of Putney, England, have also arrived but have not yet been used. The oars are three inches longer than the standard Ameri-

three inches longer than the standard American blade and somewhat narrower.

The rowing authorities are trying to devise some scheme by which the crews can take up their work on the other side of the Hudson at once. Rice has already encountered considerable difficulty in the Harlem on account of passing turs and would welcome a change. At the last meeting of the Rowing Club a committee composed of (apt. Boyle, Rice and H. Perrine was appointed to consider ways and means of accomplishing the object. One scheme that has been proposed in the absence of the funds necessary to move the boathouse is to construct a float on the other side of the river from which the crews could put out. It is proposed to tow the boats across the river in fine weather and to bring them back after the rowing.

Only light work has been attempted as yet, three miles marking the limit which the crews have gone. The launch which Rice will use in coaching is expected to arrive on Monday. He has been doing all his coaching from a single in which he has accompanied the crews. The varsity boating remains the same as it was earlier in the week. Three freshman eights have been made up, as follows:

TRAP SHOOTING.

Triple Wins for Pattus and Kuchler in Nev York A. C. Competitions

The warm weather and bright sun of yesterday put the New York A. C. shooters on edge and seven events were run off at the Travis Island traps. Of these three fell to Pattus, whose streak of hick has been on the downward path for a long time, and he was elated with having tallied the triple bracket. His wins were trophies Nos. 3, 4 and 5, the latter being the "pairs," a scratch race of ten targets.

The 50 target leg for the March cup began the day's fusillade, and among the contestants was J. W. Hibbard, who has been an absentee for several months. He shot from a short mark, and with a handicap of two totalled 45, his actual scoring being the best. However, first place was won by Kuchler, who had a handleap of s, and he made the full score of 50. Trophies Nos. 1 and 2 also fell to Kuchler. They were 25 target handicaps and in the former he, with a start of 3, made the full score of 25. The Huggins cup was two, made a total of 24.

The Montclair Golf Club travelled to New Rochelle yesterday for an inter-club shooting contest with the Wykagyl Country Club and the Jersey men were fully determined to annihilate the Wykagyls at the traps. The big match was a 50 target race and each team was composed of five men. The Montclair gunners did very well, for they came within seven rocks of their opponents.

After the team match there were several minor events. In a 15 target affair Henderson, Scoble, Perley and Silt tied and in the shootoff Henderson won, with Scoble second. Another tie occurred in the 25 target handicap, those concerned being Ogden, Howard, Bavier and Brennan; the last named won in the shootoff, with Howard second. Allen and Perley won the pick up shoot and the former scored in a 15 target race also.

F. W. Moffett, who finished second in the national amateur trap shooting championship at Travers Island last December, won the club championship of the Crescent Athletic Club at Bay Ridge yesterday. Eight marksmen have been shooting for the title and each gun has shot at 300 targets. In the aggregate Moffett broke 265 targets. It was only a single blue rock more than F. B. Stephenson had to his credit. O. C. Grinnell, Jr., was third with a score of 233. Stephenson defeated Moffett in yesterday's leg, however, by the score of 89 to 87.

In addition to deciding the championship the team race, which has been running all season, was also brought to an end. It was won by W. C. Damron and C. A. Lockwood. The pair won yesterday's leg, which gave them seven wins with two more legs to go. As F. B. Stephenson and O. C. Grinnell, Jr., who stood second, had only four wins to their credit, the event is practically decided. It was an ideal day for shooting and an unusually large field gathered at the traps. Thirteen events were decided, including several for special prizes. The scores were required to find the winners of the different trophies. F. W. Moffett, who finished second in the Inasmuch as there was no shoot for the March cup last Saturday, as the majority of the New Moon gunners were at New Haven, two legs were decided yesterday. Each was at twenty-five targets. With a full score C. A Lockwood won the first from a field of fifteen guns. W. W. Marshall was high gun in the other event, which brought thirteen gunners to the traps. He also returned a full card of 25.

MACONS AGAIN TROUNCE NEW YORK AMERICANS.

Well Bunehed Hits and Good Fielding Enable the Georgia Team to Win by Score of 4 to 3 -Griffith's Men Show Improvement, but Are Deficient in Team Work

Macon, Ga., March 23 .- Clark Griffith and his band of cripples got out of town by the first train to-night that headed for Atlanta. For the second time the Macons to-day made a show of the New York Americans, to the great delight of several thousand enthusiasts, and Griffith and the rest of the team feel the humiliation. It was no fluke by which the Bush leaguers won by 4 runs to 3. They simply outplayed the New Yorks by bunching their hits and fielding like a world's champion-

The New Yorks had as many opportunities to pile up runs as the locals, but they could not locate the ball when their runs were needed. In three different innings with two men on the bases and but one out, the hit which would have tied the score and probably given a clean cut victory to the New Yorks was not forthcoming.

There was a big improvement in the fielding of the New Yorkers, but a woful lack of team work. Only in one inning, the eighth, was there a semblance of team work and that was on the hit and run play, when Hoffman singled scored as Keeler and Conroy were easy outs.

The score was a tie up to as Thomas started to steal. Neither man The score was a tie up to the seventh inning. Then the locals got busy. Berger had struck out the first two batsmen, then came the fusil ade, two singles and a double netting two runs and putting the Macons in the lead. The New Yorks made a great effort to overhaul the Macons in the ninth and they did succeed in scoring on Moriarity's single and Kleinow's double, but the next three batters were easily disposed of Kleinow's double, but the next three batters were easily disposed of.

Berger was hit for four singles in the ninth, but fast fielding prevented the home team from scoring again. Tom Hughes pitched the first five innings and struck out seven men, but he was wild at times and hit two batsmen. The New Yorks hit the ball hard in both games here, but the absence of Elberfeld and Williams has broken the infield up. The team left for Atlanta at 7:30 to-night. The score:

ST. LOUIS BEATS NATIONALS.

Poor Condition Responsible for Defeat of McGraw's Men by 7 to 2.

SAN ANTONIO, March 23.-Superior cor dition showed to-day and the St. Louis Americans easily defeated the New York Nationals to 2. It was plainly apparent that the New Yorkers had not recovered from their nearly six days and nights on the road in ourneying from San Francisco to this city. They lacked that snap and dash for which they are noted. They fielded all right, but they failed to hit the ball. The Browns, on the contrary, were apparently in just as good form as they will be all season. They have been in this hot climate for three weeks or more and have been in steady training without a break. St. Louis outplayed the New Yorks at all points of the game with the exception of base running. The game was hard fought, both teams evidently trying their utmost full card of 25.

F. B. Stephenson took home a bag which he won in one of the special shoots, F. W. Moffett won a gun and W. C. Damron a cigar case. F. W. Moffett was also the winner of the Moonlight cup. The scores:

Time and again he smashed to Criss, the St. Louis first baseman, although it was his first big league game, led both teams at the bat and had fifteen opportunities at the centre field fence off Taylor in the fourth inning. It broke up the game, for there was a man on first at the time.

Seymour was the only New Yorker who was able to size up Compton. Cy slammed the ball over the right field fence twice, but the hits only counted for doubles. McGinnity, Taylor and Christy Mathewson each pitched Tay lor and Christy Mathewson each pitched three innings in the order named. They were all touched up quite lively. McGinnity escaped with two doubles and a single. Taylor was hit for a homer, a triple and two singles, and Mathewson was banged for two doubles and four singles. The latter was in good form, however, as far as his arm was concerned. He had speed and could use his "fade away" when he chose to, but this was not often, as he would not take any dangerous chances.

The hits made off Mathewson in the eighth were bunched in paying quantities, two singles and a double following in rapid succession, McGinnity worked in promising style. Taylor had a world of speed but could do little with his curves even when he did try to. Mathewson, when he did work his famous in-drop, easily fanned the St. Louis's best hitters. He struck out Hemphill twice. Frisk once and Niles once. Compton, who pitched the full nine innings for St. Louis, used a raise curve that was very effective.

Only one of the New Yorks struck out, but most of their hits were weaklings. They did not seem to sting the ball as did the better conditioned Browns. Criss, who made such a fine record, is a Texas Leaguer, whom Manager McAleer discovered a day or two ago. He looks good enough to keep. With the exception of Shannon and Browne, who both made pretty catches, the New York's fielding was featureless.

The Browns scored one run in the third on Compton's single, Niles's sacrifice and Hemphill's double. They made two more in the fourth on a base on balls and Criss's long single and Buelow's triple. Two singles, a double and Bresnahan's high throw over second sent in two more Brown runs in the eighth. The New York's hits were all scattered except in the eighth inning, when Shannon singled and Seymour hit over the fence, with a base on balls mixed in. Seymour's double, a gift and two infield outs gave the New Yorks their run in the seventh. The same teams play to-morrow. The score:

BROOKLYNS WIN AGAIN. Hit the Ball Hard and Defeat Jacksonville

by 7 Runs to 2. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 23.—For the fourth consecutive time this week the Brooklyns beat the Jacksonville team here to-day. The score was Brooklyn, 7: Jacksonville, 2. The local men showed up much stronger with their sticks than in the previous games, scratch, leading the field with 127 out of a possible 150, his nearest opponent being David Leahy of Brooklyn, who made 114, with Mr. Sousa third with 108.

In the handicap event Mr. Sousa, with an allowance of 25, was high gun with a net kill of 133. Mr. Palmer finished next and Mr. Leahy, with his allowance of 10, was third with 124. Other contestants included J. R. Schoaff, New York: E. R. Goodnew and Leonard Tufts, Boston, Cyrus A. Taft, Whitinswille and Edward O. Greuner, New Haven. but both Bell and Rucker, two of Donovan's made two consecutive hits of Rucker. Both pitchers, Bell and Rucker, were touched up for four filts apiece during the nine innings.

Hummel and McCarthy opened the second inning for Brooklyn with a brace of singles. On Lewis's sacrifice and Alperman's out at

Two home runs were added in the third inning. With one out Bell received a base on balls and reached second on Maloney's sacrifice. Casey put Bell on third with a nice single to left, and the captain immediately made a clever steal of second. Batch scored both Bell and Casey, with a single to left field and reached third on Walter's poor handling of the ball. He was caught between third and home a moment later.

Two more runs were scored in the sixth in this inning Brooklyn made a couple of hits aided by Sommer's wildness, he hitting Butler and Alperman with pitched balls. In the eighth Brooklyn again bunched their hits. This time Pitcher Stultz was the victim. With two out, Rucker and Maloney singled in succession and Casey scored both runners with a long double. This ended Brooklyn's run getting for the day. Jacksonville made their only two runs as stated above.

Tim Jordan occupied a seat in the grand stand. The Bronx boy is suffering from a slight injury to his right leg. Lumley's lame back is very much improved. Manager Donovan expects this pair of home run hitters back in the game on Monday. Batch, who has been hitting the ball hard since arriving here, was fortunate to-day with his stick, sending in two runs for his side in the third inning. Catcher Butler arrived here to-day and immediately went to work, catching the full nine innings this afternoon. The little catcher has been playing further south all winter. The score:

GOULD RETAINS HIS TITLE.

Court Tennis Champion Defeats Crane in Challenge Match. Boston, March 23 .- Jay Gould of Lakewood retained the title of amateur court tennis champion of America through his defeat of Joseph Crane, Jr., of this city, in the challerge match at the Tennis and Racquet Club this afternoon. Gould won by the socres of 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2. His game was so far superior to that of Crane that the latter appeared to be outclassed, although in the opinion of some of the spectators Crane did not display such skill as he did in the final round of the tournament with C. E. Sands as his opponent. There were others among those who witessed the match who said that Crane really played better than he did on Thursday, and if that is the case, then Young Gould must be a marvellous court tennis expert and a better man than he was when he won the championship a year ago. It was expected that Gould would win the match, but few looked to see him show such masterly skill in sticking to a floor game throughout the contest. Crane is not fond of a floor game and it was rare that Gould allowed him to start a high game in which the Boston man excels. The youthful champion held to the low game throughout the four sets. Crane was unable to reach the opening as he placed. At no time of the game did so be weak.

Gould began the match in whirlwind style and his play fairly carried Crane off his feet, so that the champion captured the first four games before the veteran knew where he was. Then Crane recovered and won the fifth game and forced the sixth into deuce, but Gould took the seventh and deciding one easily.

CABLE CHESS MATCH DRAWN

AMERICAN AND BRITISH UNIVER-SITIES EACH WIN TWICE.

Brackett of Harvard and Wolff of Columbia the Successful Players on This Side of the Water-Hanning and Roughton Win for Oxford and Cambridge Team. The seventh intercollegiate chess match by cable between picked teams from the three American universities, Columbia, Harvard and Yale, on one side, and Oxford and Cambridge on the other side, which was contested yesterday, resulted after a hard fight in a draw, each side winning two games, the other The Americans were rather favored by luck nasmuch as the match had taken a bad turn for them in the morning session, but after re-sumption of play in the afternoon matters improved with the result stated above. Brack-ett of Harvard and Wolff of Columbia won their respective games for America, while Hanning and Roughton scored wins for Eng-The games were played at the Rice Chess Club Café, Boulevard, this city, and the Metropolitan Chess Club, London, the clubrooms being directly connected by cable. A start was made as early as 8 o'clock in the morning when, after the exchange of players, the following pairing had been arrived at:

J. R. Capablanca, Col., vs. H. J. Rose, Oxford Q. A. Brackett, Harvard, vs. W. R. Greenhalgh, Ox. L. J. Wolff, Columbia, vs. L. Illingworth, Cam. J. L. Clark, Harvard, vs. N. J. Roughton, Ox. E. B. Burgess, Vale, vs. J. R. Hanning, Oxford H. Blumberg, Columbia, vs. W. Humphreys, Cam.

E. B. Burgess, Vale, vs. J. R. Hanning, Oxford H. Blumberg, Columbia, vs. W. Humphereys. Cam. The Americans, having won the toss. decided to play the white pieces on boards first, third and fifth; so Capablanca, Wolff and Burgess played white, while Greenhalgh, Roughton and Humphreys played white for England. After an exchange of greetings between the two captains of the teams a start was made.

On the first board Capablanca tried a Ruy Lopez, Rose adopting the pawn to king's bishop's fourth variation, made famous by Marshall. The game ran about even for twenty-eight moves, while the Columbian sacrificed a pawn in the hope that his opponent would select one or the other inferior variation. In which case there were prospects for a brilliant win in sight. The Englishman, however, chose the best defence, and Capablanca had to be satisfied in the end to draw the game. Forty-two moves were recorded. Brackett relied upon a French defence against Greenhalgh. The latter exchanged the centre pawns, which tactics were followed by an exchange of pieces and the game looked for a long time as if it would be drawn. In the end game, however, the Britisher was completely outplayed and lost the game after 47 moves.

Another Ruy Lopez was played on the next board between Wolff and Illingworth. Matters were simplified by exchanges, and when the end game stage was arrived at Wolff manuaged to win a pawn. Later he succeeded in capturing a knight, and a few moves later the

the end game stage was arrived at Wolf managed to win a pawn. Later he succeeded in capturing a knight, and a few moves later the Englishman resigned. Forty-eight moves were made in this game, which was remarkably well played by the Columbia captain.

Roughton played a Scotch gambit aganist Clark on the fourth board. The latter selected a very difficult defence and was practically beaten in the opening, losing very early tically beaten in the opening, losing very early in the garke two minor pieces for a rook and getting into a very cramped position into the bargain. Try as he would Clark could not extricate hinself and, although he fought on for forty-eight moves, he finally had to resign.

The first game won by England was that on the fifth board, where the Yale man, Burgess, lost a queen for a rook in the early part of the game. After twenty-eight moves Burgess usually does, party because of the wonderful defer by Gould and also through his own hard luck. Time and again he smashed to the grille only to have the ball strike almost on the edge of the roof, and again when trying for the winning gallery, got into the chases or had the ball returned to him on speedy work by Gould.

Gould found the openings frequently and got his points, but he did not depend on this play for his victory. He had splendid control over the ball and his strokes were finely placed. At no time of the game did he appear to be weak.

Gould began the match in whirlwind style and his play fairly carried Crane off his feet, so that the champlon captured the first four games before the veteran knew where he was.

LEXINGTON TURF NOTES.

Full Brother or Sister to Roseben Expected at the Dixtana Farm.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 23.—The first foal dropped this season at the Horse Haven Farm of Perry Belmont is a bay colt by Ethelbert out of American Beauty. Milton Young has so far had in the neighborhood of fifteen foals at McGrathiana. To date colts outnumber the fillies at this extensive breeding plant. But seven foals have so far been dropped at the Raceland Stud of Catesby Woodford in Sourbon county. Every stable is now occupied at the Kentucky Association track and Supt. Ross is endeavoring to secure outside room for owners of stables that have lately applied for accommodations. The lack of room is due to the absence of the barns destroyed in the fire of last spring which have never been rebuilt. After four years barren, Rose Leaf, the dam of the sensational Roseben, is at last on the eve of dropping a full brother or sister to that flying performer, and as a consequence there is great rejoicing at Dixiana Farm. The famous broodmare Liendrino, the dam of Mexican, Boanerges and Lackland, has been shipped by her owner, J. H. Morris, to the stock farm of Carpenter & Hopper near Houstonville, Ky., where she will be mated to Santon, winner of the Sheridan Stakes at Washington Park in 1903. She is one of the oldest thoroughbred mares still in active stud service in Kentucky, being now 25 years old. Of the forty-two yearlings this season at the Spendthrift Stud of O. H. Chenault twenty-nine are colts. The get of Russell, imp. Her-mence, imp. Bowling Brook, Rensselaer, imp. Woolsthorpe, Prince Pepper, imp. Golderest and imp. Madison are to be found in the Hiram Steele, for several years in charge of the breeding stock at Hamburg Place and later a trainer for Ed Corrigan and Major P. P. Johnston, has recently accepted a position on the Lexington police force and is out of the racing game for good. Acefull, Irish Lad, Mexican, Heno and Blue Girl are some of the famous horses Steele has had at various times under his care.

The stable of thoroughbreds belonging to Major P. P. Johnston, president of the National Trotting Association, has been brought in from Montrose Farm to the Kentucky Association Track. The string is made up of fourteen horses, in charge of Trainer W. B. Littroll. Judex is the only old horse, the rest of the stable being two and three-year-olds. The bulk of the youngsters of the latter age in the stable are by the brother to Hamburg, Frankfort.

George H. Whitney's much talked of two-year-old, full sister to the noted horse Heliobas, has been named Viola Belle. Whitney will race her in his own colors, as he has reserved her for a broodmare in the future at Melrose Farm. Her dam died when she was four weeks old and so she was virtually raised by hand. In spite of this fact she is above the average in size of two-year-old fillies and his every way shows marked early development. every way shows marked early development

HURRAHS FOR TITUS.

With His Little Shell He Paddles on Lake Carnegie-Bath for Emulating Tigers. PRINCETON, N. J., March 23.-When a big red motor car came panting down Nassau street this afternoon Princeton students knew there would soon be doings on Lake Carnegie because a long rowing shell was strapped to the car. Constance S. Titus, amateur rowing champion of America bowed his acknowledgements to a cheering crowd. This was an ideal summer day in Princeton and simply perfect for launching the first boat on the still waters of the lake. With quite some ceremony Titus was aided in placing the shell in position, and when he dipped his oars a mighty rel went up. Several hundred persons and on the shores of the lake watching the graceful oarsman pull away.

Titus rowed about six miles in all. He eaded for Kingston and returned speedily. When he landed he was hot but happy and when he landed he was not but happy and avowed that Mr. Carnegie did the right thing by old Nassau in giving such a beautiful stretch of water.

You'll have to get up pretty early in the morning to beat the students. As soon as the news spread that Titus was in town and ready to take a trial spin several undergraduates remembered that an old varsity shell lay sleeping in a barn near the lake. So they hustled down and got it out.

The craft was one that the Tigers used years ago when they were represented among the big colleges. Its looks were deceiving though, for it was chuck full of chinks and leaked like a fish net. The students used two short oars and a couple of canoe paddles. After they had gone about a hundred feet they did a vanishing act.

When the students came to the surface they resembled mermen. The onlookers roared with laughter at the sight but the near oarsmen swear that as soon as the boat is fixed up they will try again.

Titus will probably remain in Princeton for some time now and will practive daily on the lake. There is no doubt that interest in the sport is being aroused. Already a bunch of canoeists is beating up the placid waters. avowed that Mr. Carnegie did the right thing

LASKER WINS CHESS GAME.

Champton Now Has Seven Victories to His Credit in Match for Title. MEMPHIS, March 23.-Dr. Emanuel Lasker beat F. J. Marshall in the fourteenth game of the championship chess match at the Business Club in this city this evening, thus putting seven wins to the credit of the cham-pion, while Marshall has not won a solitary game, seven games being drawn. M. D.

McGrath was the referee, while P. Peres and W. R. Fearon acted as seconds for Lasker and Marshall respectively.

Marshall again adopted a French defence and play was patterned after the thirteenth game, Marshall deviating on his fifth turn by advancing his pawn to queen's bishop's 5. Lasker played with a pawn minus temporarily, but shortly regained it. On his tenth move he opened the king's bishop's file and appeared to obtain rather the freer game.

To the surprise of every one present Marshall on his eleventh move committed a gross oversight—which cost him a piece. Under the impression that he could regain Lasker's knight with a check he sacrificed his king's bishop, but found too late that the knight in question could interpose and thereby be saved by the champion. It took Lasker only ten moves longer to wind up the game. The score follows: FOURTEENTH GAME-PRENCH DEPENCE

Parent With Boston Americans but Not Signed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 23.-With Chic Stahl at the head the Boston Americans Stahl at the head the Boston Americans reached Louisville this morning from Hot Springs, in good condition, and from the way they played ball this afternoon in the first game of the local season the men are in good condition. Parent and Taylor are still at outs, and Parent has not yet signed with the team. He is with them, however, and is keeping himself in condition, and it was given out here this afternoon, unofficially, that he and Taylor will compromise and come to terms before the season opens. It is said that only a thousand dollars stand between them. Boston walked away from the Louisville Association team by the score of 10 to 2.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 23,-The Yale rew got another hard blow to-day when crew got another hard blow to-day when Stanley P. Rockwell, who has been rowing bow this season in the varsity boat, left college to go to his home in Enfeld. Conn. He is suffering with appendicitis and an operation will probably be performed at once. Rockwell rowed bow in the four oared boat last season and was one of the strong candidates for the varsity eight. With the vacancies in this year's boat he was practically sure to America this summer to compete with the winners of the Harvard-Yale games, says it learns the rumor is untrue.

No challenge has been received. Nevertheless if a challenge is sent a meeting possibly could be arranged, as the Oxonians are quite willing to accept it.
